Dear Mrs. O'Connor

It occurred to me that I have given you the wrong information about Gilbert's education. I believe I gave you the impression that Gil was an engineer. He started his first year of college but was taken with the flu. He came home and when he was well his folks took him to Florida and in the summer he worked on the big estates in Bernardsville, N.J. with the young people. In the Fall he returned to college and at Christmas vacation he signed up with the Coast Guard. After the war we were married and he didn't go back to college. His father soon afterward sold out to Bethlehem Steel. One of the engineers

I am sorry about this but felt I must set the information straight.
