Dear Mr. Harris:,

There is a strong possibility that in the near future I may be very much in need of a job. You know most of the circumstances leading to this situation and the immediate story is too long and too detailed to bother you with now. As I have never looked for a job I am rather at a loss as to where to begin but with other possibilities it has occurred to me that I might be useful in some way up in your city. Should you know of any executive or managerial job that I might fill regardless of the income involved, I would appreciate hearing of it for a source of income, regardless of size, is highly desirable.

I have some assets in the form of timber on the island but I do not feel free at the moment to realize them though they may be useful at a later date. There is even the possibility of moving the family North if I should be successful in finding occupation there for I must confess I am rather disgruntled with my treatment here. I am attaching a sheet giving full particulars which you can amplify from your acquaintance with me should you have occasion to use them. Best regards to yourself and to the family. Whatever you can do will be more than appreciated.

Sincerely

Gilbert D. Hedden
